

2008 AUSTRALIA DAY AMBASSADOR - Colin McPhedran

The author of White Butterflies - an astonishing record of starvation, endurance and loss

This extraordinary tale begins as a boy's own adventure, becomes a deep personal tragedy and ends as an enlightening story about the human spirit. Along the way it tells in great detail how an 11-year-old boy copes with shrapnel wounds, personal loss, disease, starvation and a three-month journey through the monsoon, mud and corpse infested jungles of northern Burma during 1942.

Colin has lived in the Southern Highlands since arriving, alone, as a refugee when he was 20. He has played almost every sport and been involved in community activities including a stint as an alderman on the former Bowral Council, a delegate to Berrima County Council, Chairman of the House Committee on Bowral
