

Regional Industry Education Partnerships (RIEP)

What is the RIEP program?

A NSW Government initiative that aims to strengthen connections between local industry and secondary schools and supports students in planning their future career pathways.

The program aims to:

- Build partnerships between employers and local schools
- Support employers to engage with schools and share their expectations for their future workforce
- Helping students develop the skills they need to get a job; and strengthen links between what is learned at school and what is needed in the workplace

The RIEP Officer

- Works with career advisers on initiatives that engage local industries and support students to plan their career pathways
- Works with local industry to facilitate access to local schools in order to promote careers within their business or industry
- Facilitates activities where employers can communicate what they need in terms of skills and experience from young people entering their industry

Examples of how we do this

Industry can effectively engage with schools by supporting:

- Industry workplace visits
- Industry information sessions or presentations
- Work preparation activities for students such as employer panels
- mock interviews or speed networking sessions
- Mentoring or coaching students
- Work experience or work placement opportunities
- School Based Apprenticeships or Traineeships
